How the Application/Jury Process Works:

- All New Applicants and all Daily Vendors are required to have their products juried. Returning Reserved Site Prepared Food and Craft Vendors who have new products must have them juried.
- After your application is reviewed you will receive a follow-up phone call from the BAFM manager to discuss the next steps towards the jury process and market membership.
- The BAFM jury committee meets and reviews new products according to our jury criteria (listed below). The committee makes recommendations to the BAFM Board based on the overall needs of the market each year. The application and jury process is considered separately for Wednesday and Saturday markets.
- For the jury you need to bring a small sampling of the products you expect to vend at market. Please include any information that addresses the jury criteria such as how your product is made, who makes it, where it is made, the ingredients/materials used in its production, and anything else you think is valuable to communicate to us about what you would like to offer.
- After the jury meets, the jury committee will make recommendations to the BAFM Board at their March 30th meeting. You will be contacted by the manager to learn the status of your application for market membership by April 1st.
- After Market season begins, there is a monthly jury. Ask the Manager for details.
- Please familiarize yourself with the BAFM membership information and rules for further details about what's involved with joining the market or call the manager at 254-8885.
